A life settlement is the sale of a life insurance policy to a third party for a cash payment less than the full amount of the death benefit - but for more than the policy surrender value. Proceeds may be used any way the seller sees fit, although they are often used to buy a more cost effective life insurance policy or annuity, purchase long term care insurance, provide cash gifts to family members, etc. With the shift in learning patterns and the prevalence of technology, administrators and educators can now find online learning available virtually everywhere.

This ad is intended for insurance and financial professionals only, and not for use for the general public. This advertisement does not apply to variable life settlements. Variable life settlements are settled through our BD affiliate. Life Settlement amounts are based on numerous factors. Actual results will vary. According to our internal statistics, the average purchase price obtained by viators through Advanced Settlements, Inc. (from July 1, - December 31, 2007) is approximately twenty-two percent of the face amount of a qualified life insurance policy. Some or all of the proceeds of a life settlement may be taxable under federal or state income tax laws. Advice from a professional tax advisor is recommended. The number of bidders for a policy may be limited; proceeds from sales of similar policies may vary and may be subject to claims of creditors. Receipt of proceeds may impact eligibility for government benefits and entitlements. Prior to sale, the insured should consider the continued need for coverage, impact to estate plans, availability of insurance, cost of comparable coverage or tax implications. There may be high fees associated with the sale of a life settlement. Securities offered through securities licensed representatives of NFP Securities, Inc., a Broker/Dealer and Member FINRA/SIPC.
